Celluloid Jukebox: Popular Music and the Movies Since the 50s

by Jonathan Romney Adrian Wootton British Film Institute
It could be said that modern pop music began in the mid 1950s with we will hear music from the six decades that cinema and pop music have shared. The book "Celluloid Jukebox: Popular Music and the Movies since the 50s" by Jonathan Romney and Adrian Wooton explores this relationship. The publication information is London: British Film Institute, 1995.